

Letter TV Program #3: D
1	Announcer: You're watching Letter TV! Today's featured letter is D! [Letter yelled out by group of kids]	Letter TV logo. The letter D appears.
2	[Letter News intro music]	[Letter News intro]
3	Comma: Hello, and welcome to Letter News. I'm Comma Commentator...	In news studio.
4	May: ...and I'm May Point. Today, we'll be giving you letter news about the letter D.	In news studio.
5	Comma: That's right, May. Ds come in two basic shapes: capital and lowercase. Both Ds make the "Deh" sound. For today's top story, let's go to roving reporter Mark Question.	Cut to close shot of Comma in studio with blackboard showing capital and lowercase Ds. Comma touches capital and lowercase letters as he talks about each one.
6	Mark: Thanks, Comma. You're super cool! I'm here at Doug's Downtown Deli, where they serve delicious sandwiches with a dill pickle. Earlier in the day, the *door to Doug's Deli was destroyed. In the doorway, you can see *Don the detective. It's his job to discover who destroyed the *door. He's got a difficult job, so let's help him detect the clues for this case.	Wide shot of Mark in front of Doug's Downtown Deli. Camera pans to show signs: "Doug's Downtown Deli" and "Delicious sandwiches with a dill pickle." Camera pans to show deli doors. One side has a hole shaped like a duck, and the other has a hole shaped like a dog. A detective with a magnifying glass examines the holes and the dog and duck footprints leading away from the deli.
7	Comma: Don, we're at your disposal. And now, this message.	In news studio.
8	Announcer: This is the letter D, the letter that makes the "Deh" sound. We use the letter D in words like *door, *duck [quack], and *dog [bark]. If you replace the letter D with another letter, it changes the sound and the meaning of the word. Watch: *dog—*hog.	Brick wall set: door falls from sky and lands on wall. Door opens; duck walks out, quacking. Then door opens again and dog runs out, barking. On second "dog," barking dog trots back onscreen and exits through door, followed by grunting hog that also exits through door.
9	May: Don the Detective continues to look for clues to the Deli Door mystery. Let's join him in D.C., with a gardener named	In Letter News studio.

	Dot.
10	Dot: My garden has been destroyed! I used to have daisies and daffodils. I would dig in the dirt until dark. A duck with a doughnut being chased by a dog dug up my daffodils.	Cut to close shot of Dot with Washington Monument in background. Camera pans out to show destroyed garden. (Dot's clothing is covered with dots, and her shirt has her name on it.) Dot is very upset. Don the detective walks around garden, examining footprints.
11	Comma: Good news, Dot! Our weather report for D.C. is dark clouds and drizzle. That should perk up your daffodils!  Ow! We'll be right back...	Comma stands in front of weather map.  Comma just misses getting run over by the duck, and then gets clobbered by the dog.
12	[Letter Music Break: D song] [Dirk the Donkey sings:] Ding Dong...Open up the door! Ding Dong...Open up the door! There's a duck with a doughnut and I Don't know what for. Ding Dong...Open up the door! Ding Dong...Open up the door! Ding Dong...Open up the door!	Dirk singing in his house. At end of song, duck and dog burst in. Dog chases duck around Dirk, then grabs Dirk's tail and drags Dirk out of the house.
13	May: The drama continues as Dana's Delivery Service tried to deliver a dollar to a doctor. She dropped the dollar down a drain. Luckily, her dad was able to get it.	Open in news studio, then cut to shot of Dana holding a dollar in front of doctor's office. Dog and duck run past Dana, knocking dollar out of her hand. It floats down a drain. Hand comes out of drain holding the dollar.
14	Comma: Leaping Linguini, May! This sure has been a day full of disasters! This just in...	Back to news studio.
15	Comma: A dragon dropped by to see Deb the dentist. She told him to brush his teeth three times a *day to avoid tooth decay.	Cut to shot of sign: "Deb's Dentist Office." Camera pans to show dragon getting teeth brushed by Deb the dentist. Deb is brushing the dragon's teeth from balcony of her office building.
16	May: Let's go to Peri Od for a foreign news update.	May in news studio.
17	[Letter News intro music]	Globe spins in and focuses on Australia.
18	Peri: Bonjour, May. Down under in Australia, wild dogs are called dingoes. The dingoes chase ducks with doughnuts	Peri under sign that reads "Australia." Dingo chases duck with doughnut through desert landscape.

	through the desert.
19	May: Let's go live to Mark Question with breaking news about today's disasters.	In news studio.
20	Mark: Thanks, May. You're super cool! I'm here with Don the detective.	Cut to shot of Mark standing in front of the deli with Don the detective.
21	Mark: He determined that a dog chasing a duck destroyed the door to the deli.	Shot of dog and duck breaking door.
22	Mark: The dog and duck also destroyed Dot's daffodils in D.C....	Shot of dog and duck destroying garden.
23	Mark: ...and dragged a donkey through Deb the dentist's office.	Shot of dog dragging donkey while chasing duck.
24	Mark: The duo is also responsible for Dana's Delivery Service dropping the dollar.	Shot of dog and duck knocking dollar out of Dana's hand.
25	Mark: There's no doubt about it: the dog and duck are responsible for today's disasters.	Back to close shot of Mark on location at the deli.
26	May: Good work, Don! We have in the studio the *dog and *duck responsible for the day's disasters. Dog, why are you chasing this duck?	In news studio. Dog and duck sitting in interview chairs beside her.
27	Dog: Hey, man, he took my doughnut.	Gesturing toward duck, who is holding a doughnut.
28	Duck: It's my doughnut!	Agitated, tries to fly while holding doughnut. Duck falls on studio floor with loud thump. Dog watches duck fall.
29	May: Why don't you two divide the doughnut?	Close shot of May.
30	Duck: Divide the doughnut? OK. Here.	Close shot of duck. Duck breaks doughnut in two halves, and offers one half to the dog.
31	Dog: Don't bother. The doughnut is dirty.	Dog turns away from doughnut with dismissive gesture.
32	Comma: There you have it. A *day of destruction, all because of a doughnut that was dirty! It's been a *day full of Ds. I'm	Comma and May in news studio. Duck flutters over their heads. Dog sniffs front of news desk. Big doughnut rolls in front of

	Comma Commentator...	desk in foreground. Dog chases after it. [Speedy sound effect]
33	May: ...and I'm May Point, and this concludes today's Letter News. Have a good *day!	Comma and May in news studio. Duck flutters toward camera, then offscreen.
